someecards

1. Relying on willpower for long-term change

2. Attempting big leaps instead of baby steps

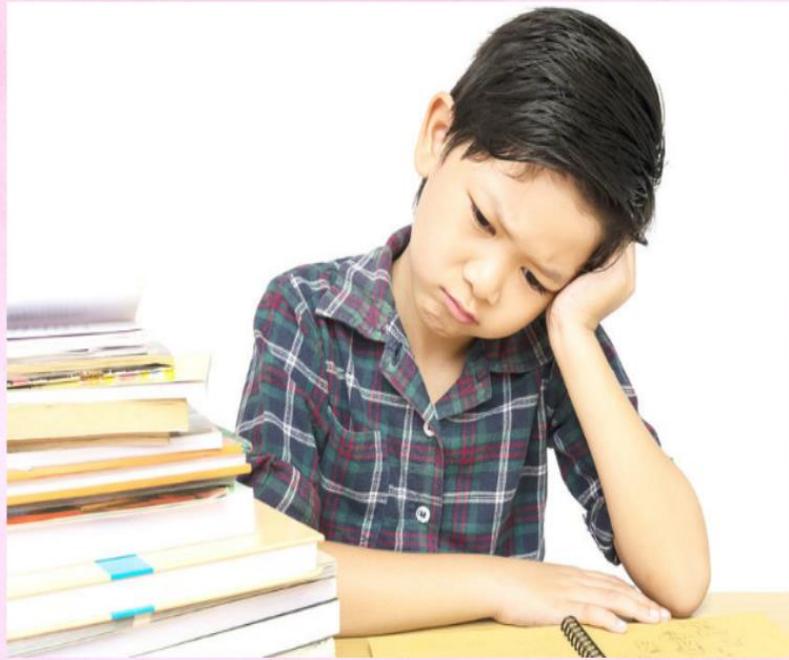

3. Ignoring how environment shapes behaviors

4. Trying to stop old behaviors instead of creating new ones

5. Blaming failures on lack of motivation

6. Underestimating the power of triggers

7. Believing that information leads to action

8. Focusing on abstract goals more than concrete behaviors

9. Seeking to change a behavior forever, not for a short time.

10. Assuming that behavior change is difficult

Increase ability...
... by making the task easy to do

What Is a Tiny Habit?

- Behavior you do at least once per day
- Takes <30 seconds to do
- Requires little effort (ie, cost)
- Want vs should
- Doesn't create pain or bad emotions

Tiny Habits Formula

- After I [your Anchor],
- I will [new Behavior].
- Then, I will Celebrate.

Make the Task Easy by Cutting the Cost

- Money
- Time
- Physical effort
- Mental effort
- Social deviance
- Non-routine

How Small Is Tiny? Ridiculously Small

Tiny Version

- Floss one tooth
- Take one bite of carrot
- Do 2 push-ups
- Take one deep breath

Starter Step

- Put an apple in my backpack
- Put out the dog food
- Open my journal

Why So Tiny?

Do Small Details Really Matter?

Small Changes . . . Big Rewards

MATCHING MYSELF WITH THE BEST BEHAVIOR

Prompts, Anchors, Triggers

What Is a Prompt (Anchor or Trigger)?

- Says “Do it now!”
- Must be:
 1. Solid
 2. Reliable
 3. Specific
 4. Related in behavior, proximity, time, frequency, purpose

Tiny Habits Formula

- After I [your Anchor],
- I will [new Behavior].
- Then, I will Celebrate.

Prompts (Anchors or Triggers)

External	Internal
Alarms	Emotions
Reminders	Routines
Props	Situations
Tools	Places
Calls-to-action	People
What to do next is in the trigger.	What to do next is in the person's head.

Linking Anchors to Target Behavior

- Link anchor and target behavior by making sure they are related in:
 - Behavior
 - Proximity
 - Time
 - Frequency
 - Purpose

Tiny Habits Formula

- After I [your Anchor],
- I will [new Behavior].
- Then, I will Celebrate.

Put It All Together

After I...[your anchor]	I will...[tiny habit]
Close the front door	Put my keys in the basket
Buckle my seatbelt	Sit up straight and relax my shoulders
Open my eyes in the morning	Tell myself "This is going to be a great day"
Turn off my computer	Write down 1 item on my to-do list for tomorrow
Take off my shoes	Put them on the mat at the front door
Close my eyes at night	Take 2 slow deep breaths and relax my body
Turn on the dishwasher	Set out my vitamins in my favorite ceramic dish
Put the water on for tea	Call my mom and say "hi"
Press the start button on the coffee maker	Do 2 squats

The Delight of the Dunk

WORKSHEET

HABIT BY DESIGN

Anchor

After I...

Behavior

I will...

Celebration

And immediately...

Which First: Anchor or Tiny Behavior?

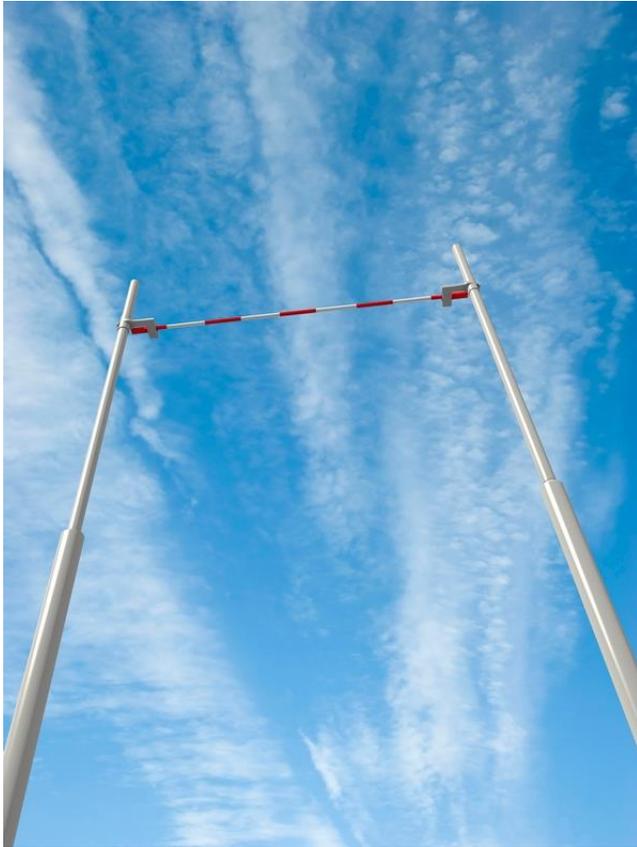

“When you focus on three new behaviors, you learn how habits work. You get more insights about human nature. In contrast, focusing on just one behavior gives insight mostly into that one behavior, but not the bigger picture.”

--B.J. Fogg, Ph.D.

Raise the Bar? Grow Tiny Habits

Spot the Mistakes

SMART Goals: Smart or Not?

1. "I will walk enough to burn at least 1,250 calories through exercise this week."
2. "I will drink no more than three cans of sugar-sweetened soda per week."
3. "I will drink water instead of soda every day this week."
4. "I will bring my lunch to work instead of eating out 4 days this week."
5. "I will meditate for 15 minutes every morning."

When Readiness to Change Is Low

Use tiny habits as a tool to boost readiness and prepare for change.

Focus on:

- Benefits
- Reasons
- Importance
- Other....?

Tiny Habits in Relationships

- After I tell my coworker, “Great job,” I will name the trait and action that defines “great.”
- After I pay the cashier, I will make eye contact and say, “Thanks very much. I appreciate your help.”
- After my partner walks through the door, I’ll shout out “Welcome home, honey!”

Tiny Habits for Breaking Bad Habits

Breaking Bad Habits Strategies

1. The Environment – start here
2. Build a New Positive Habit – become the person who doesn't do the bad or unwanted habit
3. Self-Talk – working with the habits that are in your mind
4. Swap Or Replace – switch out your bad habit with a new you habit
5. Reduce Behavior – put yourself on the path to your new identity
6. Aversion – last resort
7. Ah-Ha! – the magic switch

Simple....But Not Easy

Practice!

Wrap-up: Bring It on Home

WHAT?

SO WHAT?

NOW WHAT?

Tiny Habits in agency settings to improve:

- Staff well-being
- Organizational effectiveness
- Client well-being

“Does this behavior help me become the type of person I wish to be? Does this habit cast a vote for or against my desired identity?’ Habits that reinforce your desired identity are usually good. Habits that conflict with your desired identity are usually bad.”

--James Clear
